

April 2018 - For Immediate Release – Nicholas Maestri joins Bargate Murray as a Partner and Head of Property

Nicholas Maestri

Bargate Murray, the multi award-winning Luxury Asset law firm, is delighted to announce the appointment of Nicholas Maestri as a Partner and Head of Property.

Nicholas has held partner positions for the majority of the last eighteen years. After studying in London, he joined a Regional Essex Law firm where he subsequently became an Equity Partner and Head of Residential Property.

He joined a top 100 Law firm with over 25 offices in 2013, and was responsible for setting up two new Central London Flagship offices in London Bridge and Westminster – acting as Head of Residential Property for both offices.

Quentin Bargate, Senior Partner, comments:

“As one of the world’s leading Luxury Asset Law firms, we have long sought to engage with a really excellent residential property lawyer specialising in high end residential property work. I am delighted that Nicholas has now joined Bargate Murray to head up our brand new Property Department, offering bespoke residential property services to our HNW and UHNW clients.”

Nicholas Maestri, Partner and Head of Property, comments:

“I am delighted to have joined Bargate Murray, whose reputation as an outstanding law firm dealing with complex yacht and aviation matters is already well known. What attracted me to Bargate Murray is the excellent fit between their existing clients and expertise and my high end residential property skill set. Clients deserve only the best advice when their hard earned money is put to work with complex assets.”
